

DMCC Hosts Israeli Tech Delegation in Almas Tower

28 October 2020

DMCC hosted a high-tech Israeli delegation today comprised of senior officials, companies and investors.

Feryal Ahmadi, Chief Operating Officer of DMCC welcomed the delegation to Almas Tower that was headed by Jerusalem Venture Partners Fund, with expertise in cybersecurity, fintech, insurance, and agriculture

The delegation toured the world's leading Free Zone, and discussed future collaborations, the commercial appeal of Dubai, DMCC's role as a trade hub and the ease of setting up a company in Jumeirah Lakes Towers (JLT).

In support of Dubai's transformation into the innovation hub of the Middle East, DMCC is increasingly the Free Zone of choice for entrepreneurs, start-ups, SMEs and innovators – as well as global technology companies – seeking to use Dubai as a launchpad to grow and scale their enterprise.

The visit follows the recent agreement signed between DMCC's Dubai Diamond Exchange (DDE) and the Israeli Diamond Exchange (IDE) to boost diamond trade between the two countries.
